Nicolas Zavalichine elected Board member of the International Association of Legal Protection Insurance (RIAD)

Tallinn, 7 April 2017: the Frenchman, Nicolas Zavalichine (AXA Legal Protection), elected Board member

Nicolas Zavalichine has been CEO of AXA Legal Protection since March 2016. He joined the AXA Group in 1992 where he has held numerous high-level management positions. Nicolas Zavalichine has a firm grasp of innovation in the industry and, as a skilled actuary, he is very conscious of their impact on the legal protection market. He says: "It's a privilege to represent our French members in the Board of RIAD and I am looking forward to contributing with my experience to bring our sector forward. I am convinced that the ongoing economical, digital and legal trends will have an enormous impact on our industry and I am very happy that I will have the opportunity to see that our members prepare for this exciting future".

RIAD, the Association of Legal Protection Insurance, is committed to promote via its global members easy, affordable and high quality access to justice and the law. RIAD counts 55 members in 21 countries. Members are specialised in providing insurance and/or services in support of enforcing and defending individual legal rights: they provide their customers with the necessary resources to access high quality and readily available legal advice and services. They also effectively shield customers from financial risks associated with the cost of enlisting legal professionals and accessing the justice system. <http://www.riad-online.eu>
